DISTRICT COURT IN THIRD WEEK

The Petit Jurors summoned for the third week of district court of Medina County appeared Monday but were dismissed the same day. There were no cases coming up this week which required jury trial, and only civil cases came up for hearing. The January term of court is expected to close Friday of this week.

At time of going to press last week the criminal case of the State of Texas vs. Ernest Sadler, charged with assault with intent to murder, was being heard. Evidence and arguments were heard and on January 29 the jury retired at 9:30 A. M. The jury found the defendant guilty of assault to murder with malice and punishment was assessed at 5 years in the penitentiary. Judgment was made accordingly and the defendant was remanded to jail.

On February 2, however, the defendant's motion for new trial was heard and considered but was overruled and sentence was pronounced in accordance with the judgment. The defendant then gave notice of appeal to the Court of Criminal Appeals of Texas. Recognizance was set at $1500 and the defendant remanded to await further action. On Feb. 3 the defendant as principal with Mrs. Lula Sadler, a widow, and H. A. Mann as sureties, entered into recognizance in the sum of $1500 and the defendant was released on this recognizance to await action of the Court of Criminal Appeals.

HOME RELIEF SOCIETY HOLDS ANNUAL ELECTION

At a too small attended meeting of the members of the Home Relief Society of Medina County last Saturday afternoon, a reading of the Secretary-Treasurer's records showed the Society in a vigorous, healthy condition, with a little better than eleven hundred members (none over seventy years of age) and with nearly twenty thousand dollars in the surplus mortuary fund. In Judge Rothe's remarks upon opening the meeting as Chairman of the Board of Directors, he emphasized the one point that all the Society needs is the constant acquisition of new members, and he urged each of the present members to concern himself in securing such additions to the membership.

Several changes in the by-laws were agreed upon for adoption at some future meeting of the membership and subject to the approval of the State Insurance Commission. Among these was one providing for an over-lapping board of directors so that all members will serve three years with one-third of them retiring each year. In this way the board will always have a hold-over of two-thirds of its experienced members instead of electing an entirely new board at each annual meeting as is now done.

A resolution of sympathy for the family and respect for Henry H. Crow, founder of the Society and its Secretary-Treasurer from its organization until his death, was offered by Judge R. J. Noonan and seconded by several others and adopted.

All former members of the Board of Directors were re-elected, as follows: Judge Arthur H. Rothe, Dr. H. J. Meyer, Joe H. Steinle, S. A. Jungman, Henry Z. Windrow and Alfred H. Schweers. In the selection of a successor to H. H. Crow, deceased, as a member of the Board, John M. Finger was nominated and elected without any one else being placed in nomination.

We are informed that the Insurance Commission has approved the suggested changes in the by-laws and advised deferment of the appointment of a Secretary-Treasurer until the membership has regularly adopted them and the Board is functioning under the new regulations.

SINCLAIR REFINING COMPANY ENTERTAINS

Some two hundred farmers, nearly every one a tractor owner, turned out to the meeting last Friday night at the old Colonial Theatre building. The meeting was sponsored by the Sinclair Refining Company and was under the local direction of Mr. N. C. Johnson, local distributor of the company's products.

In addition to several talkie reels shown on the screen, which combined entertainment with instructive features, several valuable instructive lectures were given by spokesmen of the Company. R. S. Barret presided over the meeting, directing the program and introducing the speakers.

In his capacity of Lubricating Engineer, E. F. Wunderlich gave a valuable lecture on the use of lubricants and the care of tractors especially. J. W. Emery of the Ethyl Gas Corporation entered into a learned discussion of the qualities and usefulness of gasoline and how to get the most value in applied power from every drop of it. Dick Beard of the Sinclair Refining Company went extensively into the subject of motor power and its use on the farm. He surprised everyone with his elucidation of its wide application, and the many adaptations of Sinclair products to facilitating the use of motor power and the making of life easier on the farm. Sinclair has a product for every purpose from pulling the breaking plow and the seeder to processing the crop and trucking it to the market.

Many expressions of appreciation of the program were heard among those present, and Mr. Johnson was the recipient of many thanks for bringing the program to Hondo.

After the formal program was over, the assembly was treated to a feast of "hot dogs" and coffee under direction of Miss Dolson and her home economics class of the Hondo High School.

Among Company representatives from out of town present for the meeting were: R. S. Barret, E. F. Wunderlich of Houston; J. W. Emery of Amarillo; Guy W. Blair, San Antonio; Dick Beard, Houston; Dave Fain, Carrizo Springs; R. C. McBryde, Kerrville; J. A. Coughan, Boerne; E. C. Moore and C. N. Ledbetter, Del Rio; B. D. Dixon, J. A. West and J. B. Dixon.

NOTICE W. O. W. MEMBERS

A meeting is called for Wednesday night, Feb. 11, at 7:30 for election and installation of officers, and such other business as may come before the meeting. All Woodmen are urged to be present.

A. H. SCHWEERS,

THE LOW DOWN FROM HICKORY GROVE

Everybody is bending his back to put the quietus on Japan, and we are gonna do it—even if it takes our last dollar. But when it is all over we don't want our boys coming home to a Socialistic U. S. A.

Mr. Morgenthau says we should cut out 1,000 million of present planned non-defense spending. Mr. Byrd, the old "Virginia Soreback", says reduce it by 2,000 million. Now, above all times, every dime should go into bullets and guns versus social experiments. Running the army and the navy is plenty for Uncle Sambo.

Unless we watch our step, we won't be like the guy who lost his vest when he took a Turkish bath in the fall but found it again next spring, under his shirt. We won't have any shirt left, to find a vest under.

Yours with the low down,

JOE SERRA

LET GOVERNMENT SET EXAMPLE

The Joint Committee on Reduction of Non-Essential Expenditures, of which Senator Byrd is chairman, has made its preliminary report to the President and Congress. That report is of the greatest importance to all the people.

The Committee shows where cash savings of more than $1,300,000,000 can be made in non-defense Federal spending during the fiscal year which will begin July 1. It also recommends additional legislative action for savings which would bring the total cut in non-defense spending to almost $1,717,000,000. And this is only its first report—it will make further reports and show where still more retrenchment is practical and possible.

The Brookings Institution has also made an itemized survey which indicates possible savings in excess of $2,000,000,000. It too expects to make further reports to show where additional cuts can and must be made.

One paragraph of the Joint Committee's report should be studied and acted upon by every public official. That paragraph says: "There is no room for non-essentials in a government stripped for action. Our united purpose is to produce sufficient armament and trained personnel to win this war. Nothing can be permitted to interfere with this objective. The American people are being asked to pay extremely burdensome taxes which will become greater; they are being asked to make sacrifices and endure hardships. The government should set the example."

The American people, sick of waste and extravagance, await their Congress' answer to that statement of undeniable fact.—Industrial News Review.

MATERIAL WASTE MUST BE STOPPED

Retail merchants are being called upon to take a leading part in the campaign against waste of essential materials.

At the moment, principal attention is being given to conserving rubber and paper. Merchants are asked to use a minimum of paper in wrapping parcels, and to use none at all for packaged goods. It is recommended that the number of store deliveries be reduced whenever possible.

The consumer should understand what is being done, and cooperate. Don't ask to have your purchases wrapped or put in bags if you can conveniently carry them as they are. Take your purchases home yourself, instead of asking for delivery service, whenever you can. Save boxes and paper of all kinds—they can be reclaimed and put to further use.

Experiments are now being conducted to discover whether or not it is feasible to reclaim the tin content of cans, and before long you may be asked to save your used cans. Tin, like rubber, is fast becoming scarce.

Both chain stores and independent stores are taking active part in these "prevent needless waste" endeavors. Your cooperation will enable them to give you the best possible service consistent with current conditions.

And your cooperation will help conserve materials which are vitally needed in defense work.—Industrial News Review.

And Joseph's master took him, and put him into the prison, a place where the king's prisoners were bound. Gen. 39:20. Such is life. Joseph in prison, when you had expected a medal for bravery. A convict, while Lady Potiphar, the beautiful criminal, collects the honors and applause. What a world! Court dockets could furnish ample material for identical cases down to our times, even beyond count and even more detestable. There were shouts of extreme merriment in the rank and file of the jealous co-servants of Joseph, that had watched the upward strides of that Hebrew slave, leaving all other servants far behind. Serves him right, that goody-goody! A love-cabal with the mistress of the house! They had long suspected it. No wonder he rose so fast. Now she is tired of him and throws him to the dogs. Such, most likely, was the construction of the case. And there was a big hullabaloo in the prison by the fellow-prisoners, no doubt, upon his delivery, when the wild rumors and surmises had penetrated the walls of the dungeon. What a fool! Virtue doesn't pay! Mistress or master is always right, the slave always wrong! Fight rottenness with rottenness to save your hide! Perforce you stepped on your good fortune, and you'll spend your future with vermin and rats! Such and similar might have been the clamorous outcries of those embittered jailbirds. And no counsel for defense far or near. What had happened? The old, old story, with repetitions galore. Day by day that impassioned hussy had made her seductive attempts; her entreaties and enticings, her flatteries and promises came with greater vehemence in due sequence. In vain, Joseph was on his guard. A final effort, rude force, also failed. He left his outer garment in her hands and fled. That turned the tide. The would-be angel changed into a noisy devil, protesting her innocence to the crowding servants whom she, blantly, had called in, and indicting the lad with aggravated and heinous charges, waving the corpus delicti, that coat, as convincing proof and document in their faces; and, with tearful outrage, repeating her accusations to her puzzled husband, even intimating that he is at the bottom of it all, having foisted the young man upon the household to rob her of her chastity! And he almost succeeded, but "as I lifted up my voice and cried . . . he fled out."

"O what a goody outside falsehood hath!" How well she practiced that old adage, coined by Lady Macbeth, "Look like the innocent flower, but be the serpent under 't." A really modern art, daubing vice with a show of virtue, and "hiding coal-black lies in snow-white garments." And was that bewildered jury of hoity-toity servants "convinced beyond a doubt?" Stood they with tongue in cheek? They usually have a sinister faculty of making their own observations. And Mr. Potiphar, was he taken in by that frothy eloquence? Dare he doubt? If so, he would incriminate his spouse, and the peace of home would take a speedy flight. And so "his wrath was kindled" and the lad, without investigation or further ado, was thrown into prison, disgraced and without prospect of parole or pardon. So she got by with it, nicely. How many do! Did you ever take notice? Getting by with mushy lingo, unctuous hypocrisy, specious phrases, false fronts, shrewd deceptions, glittering lies, veiled corruption, theft and even murder, seemingly undetected, unexposed, unpunished! Think so? Watch their career! God is not mocked by the most cunning sly boots. His mills grind slowly but quite thoroughly, still. Joseph could take it, thousand others broke. But why these terrific temptations at all, permitted by a God Who tempers the wind to the shorn lamb? Temptations that stand like a frowning sphinx, demanding an answer, a decision? Are they to scrutinize your inner self, your moral fiber, your thoroughbred qualities, your stand and obedience with God, your faith in Him in the bitter hour of test? They, inevitably, reveal chaff or golden wheat, collapse or healthy heroism, whining cowardice or heads bloody, yet unbowed, groggy defeat or boastful man or simple, perhaps unsung, victory in the power of God. And for the victor, like Joseph, these agonizing temptations build the gateway for a new and higher course of life—and no Mr. or Mrs. Potiphar can barricade it.

A plea for rain is topmost on the daily prayer list where prayer still has its honored and extremely needful place. The ideal, balmy days, and we had many of them, were much enjoyed by all and more so by those nursing an irritating cold, but the fields and pastures and oats patches show signs of drought conditions, and many are worried about the moisture for the next crop. But He Who sweeps the sky clear in a few hours without our help, can also mass those rain-bearing clouds in due time. Perhaps we haven't thanked Him yet for the last rain He sent.

On the sick list were Mrs. D. G. Reitzer, Mrs. Geo. W. Reitzer and Henry Buss, Jr. All's well again, as far as we know, and health is so much more appreciated after these sick spells.

The new home of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Reitzer, having had a general overhauling of late, must be about ready for occupancy. Rumors of a few other changes around here are hanging in the air. But we'll wait and see what really materializes.

Announcements for February 8: Sunday school and Bible class, 9:30; English service, 10:30; meeting of Sunday school teachers; German service at New Fountain, 2:00; Luther League program at 7:15 P. M. Let us, therefore, come boldly unto the throne of grace, that we may obtain mercy, and find grace to help in time of need. Heb. 4:16.

WHAT MEDINA COUNTY W. H. D. CLUB WOMEN ARE DOING FOR NATIONAL DEFENSE

By Mrs. John Krenmueller President of Murphy Home Demonstration Club With the beginning of 1941, the Medina County Club women had this theme within their yearbook: "Urge every farm family in Medina County to produce and utilize at least seventy per cent of their food and feed supply." With this theme in mind, great emphasis was going to be placed on the production, preservation and preparation of foods so vital to national defense. The agent immediately began stressing the need of more gardens, orchards, dairy cows and poultry in the January meetings. As a result of this work, 95% of club members have their own gardens, including several frame gardens for those whose water supply is limited. Out of 110 families represented in extension work, they and their influences have caused 176 families to have better balanced meals; 21 families have improved home packed lunches and ten schools have followed recommendations for a hot dish in school lunch; this involves 1,250 children. As a result of the poultry work 342 families have an organized breeding plan, 502 have followed quick purchasing and raising recommendations. These families have also followed sanitary recommendations; feeding and housing equipment according to recommendations. This work with poultry is to be continued alongside with demonstrations on other food production especially orchards. Since this county has not as yet developed into a very productive fruit region, the women are putting forth great effort in selecting trees suitable for this region in order that each family can have an adequate supply of fruit for its members. Food preservation budgets have been made including present members with this budget they have arranged in book form bulletins together with Texas Food Standard, Planting Guide for Food and Feed, and Planning Daily Meals. In February of 1941 one club gave a demonstration to two delegates from each club of the county on the storing of cured meat in cottonseed oil. This demonstration was then continued in each of the remaining clubs. Further preservation of meats were demonstrations held on caponizing chickens by vocational agriculture teachers in various communities. Each time such a demonstration was held non-club members were invited. In November, at the Devine Freezer Locker, meats were prepared for freezing. Specialists on this work did the preparing, and women together with their families from Medina County and nearby counties attended. Besides demonstrations on meat preservation, similar work has been given on making pickles, canning corn, making jellies and preserves and canning tomatoes. As a result, the total estimated products canned and preserved by the 110 families represented is equal to $1218.20.

In food preparation, poultry and whole grain products have been stressed above all. Ways of serving poultry were demonstrated; and so were egg dishes; especially during the egg festival week March 8-13. One thousand seventy-one "Starring Egg Leaflets" were distributed during this week.

The three delegates attending the District Home Demonstration meeting at Seguin were greatly impressed with the idea of canning wheat, as suggested by Miss Grace I. Neely. There followed four nutrition schools on whole grain products. Flour from milo maize was made by a hand grist. From this were made milo maize cookies. Homemade grape nuts were also made. Since these demonstrations, several lunch rooms have asked for whole grain recipes. The county has become so interested in whole grain products that the women have scheduled for more on nutrition including an educational exhibit in April, the nutrition month.

Since a good home is next in importance to good food as an essential to the mental and physical strength of a nation, Medina County Club women have not lost time in giving attention to home improvement. Ten farm families have drawn plans. In these plans, home premises have been cleaned, sanitary privies, and grease traps installed, grass, trees and shrubs planted. Seed and cutting beds have supplied a large percentage of planting without much expense. In this home improvement, was the mattress and comfort program: 886 mattresses and 1211 comforts were made which gave many a low income family a comfortable bed and at the same time made use of much cotton. Through this program, valuable information by means of bulletins was distributed to non-extension workers. There is a belief that this program has been directly responsible for the organization of two new clubs.

In July, the four delegates to the Short Course brought back the request for the collection of Scrap Aluminum. Medina County Club women immediately set up bins in their communities for the "Collection of Aluminum for National Defense."

Then, too, 1210 Red Cross garments were made by W. H. D. women. Fifteen of these members received service pins for each one hundred hours of sewing. The local Red Cross chairman is a club woman and thus has had a wide influence in distributing this sewing.

In September 1941, an exhibit day was held at Hondo for the purpose of presenting to the people of the county the value of home production, preservation and preparation of products for our National Defense. Five of the six clubs displayed booths, namely: basket-weaving, rug making, table service, pick cotton, and "Waste to save". Many visitors were present and here was another opportunity to distribute many bulletins from a booth placed at the entrance of the exhibit hall, decorated with our National colors exemplifying the significance of taking these bulletins with them.

With the return of our delegates from the State Home Demonstration Association meet at Beaumont, came recommendations for 1942. These were made a part of our yearbook and prescribe for, Red Cross First Aid; $1.00 per county for rural aid in Britain; Parent education and child welfare; whole grain products available for every family in Texas; sponsoring school lunch program for every child in need of such; growing of food for home use and others; taking care of farm equipment; making use of Texas Food Standard as a patriotic measure, and preparing a report such as preceding story by a club member and sent to all county newspapers for publication.

Alcoholic Beverages in Wartime

(New York Journal of Commerce)

National prohibition came into being as a result of the first World War. There is every reason to expect that this futile and unfortunate experiment will not be repeated during the present conflict, for memories of the evils of the dry era are still too vivid in the public mind.

The raw material requirements of the alcoholic beverage industries do not conflict with war or food needs. Problems will arise in connection with packaging, transportation and equipment replacement, but they should prove relatively minor. The industry now provides a medium for the collection of more than a billion dollars a year in taxes, and such collections could be increased substantially in time of war.

These industries must demonstrate to the public, however, that they recognize their wartime duty. Unless this is done, prospective emotional prohibitionist propaganda may make headway. Brewers, through the United Brewers Industrial Foundation, have set up self-regulation committees in fourteen States to reform or close retail outlets of questionable character. Even more important, the foundation has proceeded vigorously to improve retail sales conditions in areas surrounding Army camps in thirty-one States. In this program, the industry co-operates with Army commanders, State control boards and local law enforcement officials. Distillers should give serious consideration to a similar program.

The liquor industry makes some positive contributions to war production. Distillers produce alcohol for munitions purposes, while vintners are turning out cream of tartar and other needed chemical products. The output of these products will doubtless increase.

The alcoholic beverage industries, like others, must place their contribution to the war effort above all considerations of profit during the period of the war. We know from experience that national prohibition is not the way to make such a contribution. The industry can help to drive this point home by taking every feasible step to further war production, and by making its contribution known to the public.

Miss Dorothy Ward and Bernice Popham, employees at Duncan Field, were here the week-end with the families of Frank and Joe Ward.

A bridal shower for Miss Pauline McAnelly was given at the home of Mrs. J. N. Wilson, Tuesday. She received many beautiful and useful gifts. Refreshments were served to all present.

SELECTIVE SERVICE ADVICE

Urging the necessity of seriously considering for deferment students in certain specialized fields in which dangerously low levels of manpower exist, General J. Watt Page, State Selective Service Director, today warned local boards against classifying registrants without regard to the fact that they are in training or preparation for activities essential to the national health safety, or interest, and war production.

This is particularly pertinent, General Page pointed out in cases of engineers, chemical, physics, medical and dental students. Quoting from a directive received today from National Selective Service Headquarters, he said:

"Although admittedly there is an overlapping of the military and civilian requirements of a nation at war, it must be borne in mind the one is dependent upon the other. It is estimated that the expanding Army will eventually require doctors and dentists in numbers heretofore unknown. They will not be available if those students who show reasonable promise of becoming doctors and dentists are inducted prior to becoming eligible for commissions.

"War industries are undergoing a hitherto unknown expansion. Aeronautical, Civil, Electrical, Chemical,

Mining, Metallurgical, Mechanical, and Radio Engineers; together with Physicists and Chemists are essential to insure a sufficient flow of material for the armed forces, and industry must look to the engineering, chemical, and physics students now in training to meet their present and future requirements.

"It is equally important that instructors in these fields be seriously considered for occupational deferment. Shortages of qualified instructors are known to exist."

General Page emphasized that in applying the broad provisions of this policy, there will be no deviation from the statutory prohibition against group deferments. The local boards will consider all evidence submitted and decide each case on its particular facts with serious regard for the nation's manpower requirements in these specialized fields, he said.

Are you an active member,
The kind that would be missed,
Or are you just contented
That your name is on the list?

Do you attend the meetings,
And mingle with the flock
Or do you stay at home
And criticize and knock?

Do you ever go and visit,
A member that is sick,
Or leave the work to just a few
And talk about the clique?

Come to the meeting often
And help with hand and heart,
Don't be just a member
But take an active part.

SMALL BUSINESS: What to do about small business always gets a rise at any gathering around town. There's sure to be someone present who is connected with the fifteen-odd Government agencies which have something more or less to do with small business. Floyd B. Odum, small business' champion, pulls no punches when he sums up the situation by saying: "I think everybody's job is nobody's job."

The general consensus of opinion in administration and business circles is that small business has to have a guardian appointed for it. These same circles are looking to Production Chief Donald M. Nelson to tackle the problem. Sources close to Mr. Nelson anticipate that one of his first acts will be to coordinate the scattered efforts to aid small business and work out a plan to insure its survival.

Mr. Odum's proposal is a new and separate agency devoted exclusively to the care of small business. This plus a modified allotment plan, under which one per cent of available raw materials would be set aside for small manufacturers, make up his prescription for keeping small factories operating on a reduced basis.

—WSS—

LABOR: "We'll wait and see" is the present reaction here to John L. Lewis' proposal for merger of the A. F. of L. and the C. I. O.

It is felt that the proposal should have come a long time ago. The fact that it came from the chief protagonist of the inter-union warfare accounts for the wary reception, for it is clear that everyone here from high Government officials down to the taxi drivers on the streets welcome the idea in principle.

Businessmen are pointing out the irony of the situation. Faced with answering charges of conducting "business as usual in 1941", they have pointed out that a good deal of valuable time was lost in jurisdictional strikes between the C. I. O. and the A. F. of L. in which business was the unwilling victim.

A nation-wide poll of public opinion indicates that a single national labor organization would be welcome to an overwhelming majority of the leaders and the rank and file of both unions.

—WSS—

CENSORSHIP: Byron Price, director of censorship, is putting the American public to the test by cracking down on a favorite evening's entertainment.

A national columnist recently suggested, in reply to statements that civilians were paying no attention to air raid instructions, that such instructions be broadcast on a quiz program which hands out cash prizes, in order to insure a maximum audience.

Much fun has been poked abroad at our interest in radio quiz programs. The Office of Censorship was quick to recognize the danger of having enemy agents take advantage of the situation. Accordingly it issued an order designed to prevent enemy agents from broadcasting military information by sending in seemingly harmless quiz and musical request numbers. If filled, the censors think, they might be part of a code.

Government spokesmen point out that this is only one phase of the use of radio in the modern "war of nerves." They were disturbed by the propaganda value of stories about German weakness. Reports of Nazi army purges, inner-party conflicts, soldier and civilian discontent, shortages, etc., are many people here feel, originated by Axis agents in an effort to inspire overconfidence in America.

Mr. Home Town Merchant is not going to be without competition—even with the demise of autos and tires. He must carry ample stocks to meet the needs of a community, and he must sell the people on the fact that he can supply their needs, along with quality and price. Don't forget the mail order houses! Even though mail order houses don't pay any city, county and school taxes, they do put out alluring advertisements in the form of well planned catalogs. But again the home town merchant has the edge. He can profitably use newspaper space to sell his wares. He can reach the people every week with a sales message.—Rockport Pilot.

A WEEK of the WAR

("A Week of the War" summarizes information on the important developments of the week made available by official sources through and including Friday, January 30.)

President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill created three Anglo-American boards to pool American and British munitions, shipping and raw materials. The boards will confer with representatives of the Soviet Union, China and others of the 26 United Nations as necessary "to attain common purposes." U. S. representatives are: Harry Hopkins, Munitions Board; Rear Admiral Emory S. Land, Shipping Board; and William L. Batt, Raw Materials Board.

The President told his press conference great progress has been made in unification of American Army and Navy commands. He said such unification has been going on for the past two months and does not result from the Pearl Harbor inquiry board report. Mr. Roosevelt said he is still studying this report, which placed the blame for lack of American alertness at Hawaii on Admiral Husband E. Kimmel and Lt. Gen. Walter C. Short, but Presidential Secretary Early indicated further action in regard to the commanders will rest with Navy Secretary Knox and War Secretary Stimson.

Price Control Legislation Signed
President Roosevelt signed the Price Control Bill which provides for a license system to enforce price regulations, calls for a single administrator and contains provisions to permit farm prices to rise as high as 110 percent of parity. The President said, however, he may ask Congress to correct certain gaps in the bill, particularly the agriculture provisions. He said the prohibition against farm price ceilings at less than 110 percent of parity is a direct threat to the cost of living, although the licensing, rent control and other provisions are useful weapons against inflation. The Department of Agriculture reported the average of farm product prices on January 15 was 102 percent of parity.

The War Front

The Army reported the Japanese were making heavy reinforcements in the Philippines preparatory to resumption of a large scale offensive against Gen. MacArthur's forces which were continuing to hold strong positions in the Bataan Peninsula. In the Philippine area U. S. forces destroyed a 5,000-ton enemy vessel and at least five enemy planes, while in the Macassar Straits, Army and Navy forces sank three large enemy transports set two more afire, torpedoed an aircraft carrier, blew up another large ship and scored hits which probably sank others. The Army announced United States Army forces arrived in Northern Ireland, and Maj. Gen. James E. Chaney took over command of all U. S. Army forces in the United Kingdom. President Roosevelt told his press conference this force is one of six, eight or 10 American expeditionary forces outside the U. S. in various parts of the world. U-boat activity resulted in the sinking off the Atlantic coast of two American ships and a Norwegian tanker. The U. S. garrison at Midway Island sank an enemy submarine attempting to attack the island.

Army

The President signed the Fourth Supplemental National Defense Bill carrying a $12,600,000,000 appropriation for 33,000 Army planes and equipment. War Secretary Stimson announced plans to speed training of 30,000 pilots, observers, navigators and other personnel to match airplane production. War Secretary Stimson announced 20,000 men have been released for duty with combat troops since the Army began replacement of enlisted men engaged in clerical and housekeeping activities by civilian employees, some of them women. He said entrance requirements for officer candidate schools have been changed to allow qualified enlisted men from 18 to 45 to win commissions within six months.

Navy

The House passed and sent to the Senate a record naval appropriation bill of $18 billion in cash and an additional $4 billion in contract authorizations to build the Navy to unprecedented strength. The Senate Appropriations Committee, at the request of President Roosevelt, added another $6 billion to the bill to strengthen the naval air arm. The Marine Corps announced regulations for enlistment of 6,000 men 30 to 50 for guard duty at naval shore stations. The Corps revised requirements to permit only college juniors and seniors and qualified enlisted men to enroll in its reserve officers' candidate class. The Navy waived minimum age requirement of 25 years for leaders, leadingmen and quartermen in Navy yards and plants under Navy jurisdiction. The Navy is recruiting skilled construction workers for work at naval bases outside continental United States.

Production
The Army Ordnance Department estimated it has been spending $21 million a day for the past five weeks for 1,200 various types of items including ammunition, small arms, artillery, tanks, etc. The Army announced its new 105 mm. howitzer is now in mass production. War Production Chairman Nelson told a meeting in New York City the job facing businessmen is to rush war contracts through to completion "without stopping to count the cost." The War Production Board announced a simplified production requirements plan to speed conversion of small manufacturers doing less than $100,000 business a year. The Board also set up a special section to collect information on all vacant industrial buildings so the Army and Navy procurement branches can award contracts in such a way as to utilize these buildings.

Conversion of Automobile Industry
Ernest Kanzler, WPB official in charge of converting the automobile industry to war production, said the industry up to January 16 had orders for $8 billion worth of guns, tanks, planes and other war material. He said the industry's present employment of 500,000 workers may be doubled when peak war production is reached late this year. He said lack of machine tools is the present bottleneck in the conversion effort but labor supply may be the next big problem.

Aliens

Attorney General Biddle ordered all German, Japanese and Italian nationals to leave specified vital areas in San Francisco and Los Angeles by February 24. Mr. Biddle said 27 additional prohibited areas recommended by the War Department would be published later.

Priorities and Allocations

The Senate passed and sent to the House a second War Powers Bill extending the Government's requisitioning power and carrying criminal penalties for violations of the priorities system. The WPB cut radio production by 40 percent, prohibited use of aluminum except on war contracts, and restricted consumption of nickel, brass and copper for advertising and decorative purposes to 50 percent of last year. The Board also announced it will withhold a percentage of canned goods in 1942 to insure ample supplies of certain foods for the armed forces.

War Production Chairman Nelson placed full authority in the Office of Price Administration to ration all goods and commodities sold on the retail market and for goods to satisfy personal needs. Price Administrator Henderson said initial sugar sales under the rationing plan to be inaugurated next month probably will be restricted to 12 ounces a week for each individual. The Department of Justice announced the Anti-trust Division is investigating the practice of requiring customers to purchase designated amounts of groceries in order to obtain limited amounts of sugar.

Labor

Labor Secretary Perkins said labor shortages require temporary "relaxation in accepted standards," and asked labor and management to place war production on a 24-hour, 7-day basis immediately. WPB Labor Director Hillman announced ratification by unions and owners of an agreement for continuous shipbuilding operations on the Pacific coast. The agreement will be extended to the Atlantic, Gulf and Great Lakes zones, Mr. Hillman said. The National Resources Planning Board outlined in a 19-page pamphlet a plan for full employment following the war.

FEDERAL INCOME TAX NO. 5

Many farmers will be liable for filing income tax returns and payment of tax for the first time this year. The term "farmers" includes livestock raisers, fruit and truck growers and operators of plantations and ranches.

Farmers may maintain their records and file their returns of income on either the cash receipts and disbursements basis or on the accrual basis of accounting. A consistent method must, however, be employed. If a cash basis is used, Form 1040F, "Schedule of Farm Income and Expenses," is required to be filled out and filed in conjunction with Form 1040.

Deductions from gross income may be made by farmers as necessary expenses, all amounts expended (other than those constituting capital expenditures) in carrying on the business of farming. Deductions for expenses include such items as cost of feeding and raising livestock (except the value of farm produce grown upon the farm and the labor of the taxpayer); cost of seed, minor repairs to farm buildings (other than the dwelling of the farmer); small tools used up in the course of a year or two; fuel and oil used for farm work; repairs and maintenance of farm machinery; hired laborers and hired machines, and cost of commercial fertilizers the benefit of which is of short duration.

The cost of farm machinery, equipment and farm buildings; amounts expended in the development of farms, orchards and ranches, as well as the amounts expended in the restoration of soil fertility preparatory to actual production of crops and the cost of liming soil to increase productivity over a period of years, are capital expenditures.

Losses incurred in the operation of farms as business enterprises are deductible from gross income. If livestock has been purchased for any purpose, and afterwards dies from disease, exposure or injury, or is killed by order of the authorities of a State or the United States, the actual purchase price of such livestock, less any depreciation allowable as a deduction in respect of such perished livestock, may be deducted as a loss if the loss is not compensated for by insurance or otherwise.

If gross income is ascertained by the use of inventories, no deduction can be taken separately for livestock or products lost during the year.

$500.00 Reward

I will pay the above reward for the first arrest and conviction of the party or parties who are stealing my sheep or goats.

SOCIAL SECURITY FACTS

Some employers seem to be under the impression that the old-age and survivors' insurance tax rate was scheduled to be increased on January 1, 1942, said F. J. McCarthy, Jr., manager of the San Antonio, Texas, field office of the Social Security Board.

"Under the present law," McCarthy continued, "the tax rate for the worker is one per cent on each dollar of his wages. The employer pays one per cent on each dollar of his pay roll, making a total of two per cent divided equally between the employer and the wage earner. This rate will continue until 1943, according to the law as it now stands," McCarthy stated, "at which time the rate will be increased to two per cent on the employer's pay roll and an equal amount on the wages of the worker. In 1946 the tax rate will be advanced to 2½ per cent and in 1949 to 3 per cent, applying to employer and employee alike," McCarthy said.

It was pointed out by McCarthy that changes in the Social Security Act by Congress in 1939 removed the 65-year age limit for wage credits and thus made it possible for many workers to continue their employment in covered occupations and build up old-age and survivors' insurance benefits. "This feature is particularly attractive at this time," McCarthy said, "owing to the fact that many an older person heretofore unemployed and not having sufficient wage credits was unable to qualify for old-age insurance benefits. These workers are now working and receiving credit for their wages and most of them, it is believed, will be able under the present labor supply emergency to continue working until they are able to qualify for benefits," McCarthy stated.

Anyone desiring information regarding the filing of claims, securing social security account numbers, etc., may call or write to the San Antonio Social Security Board Field Office at North Presa and East Houston Streets in the Maverick Building.

ANSWER TWO FIRE ALARMS

The old Holzhaus home, occupied by the Nuncio family, in the north-western part of town, was destroyed by fire about two-thirty Monday morning. The Castroville Volunteer Fire Dept. responded to the call but the fire had gained so much headway before the alarm was sounded that the efforts of the firemen were in vain, however, the home across the street from the blazing residence was saved.

At nine-thirty the same morning the Department answered a call about three miles from Dunlay when a load of furniture was discovered burning on the truck of Mr. Julius Jungman. Mr. Jungman was moving the household belongings of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Haass to Hondo, when a passing motorist discovered the furniture on fire. Mr. Jungman's hands were severely burned in an attempt to save some of the furniture, but the only article saved was the stove, and the truck.

The Leinweber Community Home Demonstration Club met Tuesday afternoon, February 3, 1942, at the home of Mrs. Ashbel Gilliam, with seven members, three visitors and Miss Verna Hambleton, County Home Demonstration Agent, present.

Miss Hambleton gave an interesting talk on "Feather Beds" and "Candlewick Bedspreads." She suggested that unbleached domestic is most frequently used for making candlewick spreads. The soft creamy color and the rich, dull texture of unbleached domestic make it very suitable for bedspreads.

The hostess served a very delicious lunch.

MARRIED AT BAPTIST CHURCH

The Hondo Baptist church was the setting for the marriage of Miss Bonita Speece, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Speece of Hondo, and George Proctor Jr., Lieutenant in the United States Army Reserve, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Proctor of Sabinal, at 5:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, February 4th. The pastor, Rev. Ira V. Garrison, officiated at the single-ring ceremony. The vows were made before the altar which was banked with fern and greenery.

Miss Frances Ruth Fly played several selections prior to entrance of the bride and groom. The bride, Miss Bonita Speece, was maid of honor and only attendant. She wore a pink crepe street-length frock with a halo hat of black shiny straw, black patent leather slippers, and white gloves. Her corsage was of pink gladioluses.

The bride entered with her father who gave her in marriage. She wore a powder blue alpaca coat and dress ensemble, a black sailor hat of shiny straw trimmed with powder blue flowers and a filmy veil, black patent leather sandals, and white gloves. Her corsage was of white gladioluses. Russell Speece, brother of the bride, assisted Lieut. Proctor as best man. Ushers were Walter Speece and Harry Kollman.

Following the ceremony an informal reception was held at the home of the bride's parents for the bride party and members of the families. Pink and white gladioluses were arranged in vases in the home. In the dining room the theme of bridal white was carried out. The table, laid with a white Madeira cloth, was centered with a crystal epergne holding white gladioluses, the base filled with white candytuft and fern, and dotted with tiny white doves. Tall white tapers in double crystalandelabra burned on each side of the centerpiece. At one end of the table was the white wedding cake, embossed with sugar-spun pink and blue petunias. Near the cake were miniature bride and bridegroom. The white blossoms also graced the buffet.

After the bride and bridegroom at the cake, Mrs. Edwin Bradford of San Antonio served it and Miss Susie Muennink served the punch. The bride's mother was attired in a dress of royal blue crepe, blue accessories, and a corsage of yellow roses. The bridegroom's mother wore navy blue with blue accessories. Her corsage was of pink gladioluses. Lt. and Mrs. Proctor left for a brief bridal trip after which they will be at home in Sabinal until he is assigned a station. Mrs. Proctor is a graduate of Hondo High School and was formerly employed by McCutchen Motors. Lt. Proctor graduated from A. and M. College on January 22, 1942.

REA NEWS ITEM

The Medina Electric Cooperative Inc., finished the energization of a line located in Frio and LaSalle Counties the first part of this week. This brought electricity to the home of more than 250 farmers in the two counties. A large number of them have already purchased electrical appliances in order to be able to enjoy their new servant—Electricity—to the utmost.

The present National Emergency prohibits the construction of additional lines, with the exception of a short extension, at this time. This means that the applicants in Uvalde County beyond the Air Port located near the town of Uvalde, as well as the applicants for service between Hondo and D'Hanis will not be able to receive the electric service at the present time.

The energization of the Frio-LaSalle County Project marks the third section in that many years. In fact the third Annual Membership meeting of the Cooperative will be held in the Raye Theatre in Hondo, Texas, at 10 o'clock A. M. on the 10th day of February, which is next Tuesday.

The Cooperative urges all members of the Cooperative to attend the membership meeting—several representatives will be present to give interesting talks on the purposes and progress of various Cooperatives of this sort in other parts of the United States; especially those in the state of Texas.

Among these REA men will be Mr. Edward P. Eardley, REA Field Engineer, who has visited Hondo several times in the past; also Mr. Leslie C. Roenigk, who has been here two or three times; and Mr. Albert G. Tall, who has recently been sent to Texas by the Washington REA offices.

This week Grell and Moehring have increased the amount of floor space in the Food Store by renting the former Red Cross room and removing the partition wall between it and their store. This gives them 5 feet by 15 feet additional space which is being utilized for their fruit and vegetable market.
